Restoration

There is a movement towards our holy calling, unlike any other time in history and many women are saying YES

Women are being restored back to their holy vow lineage - the lineage of the priestess in divine service.

Here is your sacred invitation

From Spiritually Disillusioned to Spiritually Whole

Many women have become disillusioned and are seeking a higher way of connecting with their spirituality. If you can relate, you may find that you've been on a spiritual path for months or even years and there are still deeper patterns and cycles in your life that you are still struggling with causing anxiety, grief, pain, hopelessness and confusion.

Although you may have had some "relief" from spiritual practices, it still hasn't helped get to the root of some of the deeper trauma and pain you are carrying, example, your relationship to the masculine and the unresolved pain body wounding within.

What many women are seeking is a higher cosmic and energetic principle and forsaking what they've put on the altar that doesn't belong there that was made god.

Behind the Veil - The Holies of Holies

Women of the lover/priestess lineage carry a sacred vow template.

They are given an "impulse" of devotion which may have been distorted through programming or pain. In this distortion, women find that they may have "given" over their vow of devotion and gave up their vows, forsaking themselves. Many women have felt they have lost themselves in men when they felt a deep soul connection, giving themselves totally to it while not having the heart, mind, and inner strength to not fall into the shadows of obsession, compulsion, rage, chasing, fixing, mothering and saving.

Example, you may have a deep incredible experience and soul connection that leaves you dazzled and mystified and all in your being pulls you towards that, as you desire to dance with it, as you desire to let it all in, as you desire to allow for it to consume you, as you fully let go into your being and devoted in love to it.

You may have given yourself over to a man in commitment to him or in your vow of marriage to him and thought it would fill your deepest soul desires for union.

Yet you find yourself unhappy, displaced, obsessed, powerless, creating with consistent cycles of resentment, co dependency, neediness - and always struggling to ground this devotion in the 3D reality. You may try to "talk" to him about your needs, or may wait, convince him, may even put your life on hold for him and find the devotion you desire escapes you.

Simply: your man may not be fully deeply and completely in service to you (even if married) and he may be distant, hot and cold, wishy washy, reactive, unpresent, emotionally unavailable - making it feel like you are creating with a pain body load you can't see to escape.

If you find that you've chosen men who can't meet you in the depth of devotion you crave or have a habit of having deep energetic activations by a man and unable to contain the energy...

Where you are not serving as the HIGH PRIESTESS - it indicates that your vow template is fractured.

The behind the veil practices and principles are sacred rites of passages to help women move into a higher connection to their sacred vow, to their sovereignty and in the correct template with the immortal King and relationship with masculine energy.

This is our epic devotional return

Space of Remembrance

This is the space of remembrance of our eternal vow we had in all lifetimes and dimensions. This sacred practice is where we are creating with the divine masculine archetype itself where we anchor the covenant codes that are handed over from the universal archetype - the master builder - to our men.

That place is where we will meet the King to whom we made our original vow - the divine masculine principle in the universe and the archetypal divine masculine.

There is no way we can build at all on any foundation unless we go behind the veil, unless we allow for the energetic cosmic spiritual call that comes from within.

Going behind the veil and living from that holy place through sacred practices can also provide the space of possibility for the master builder (Divine Masculine Archetype) to ACTIVATE your man - to hand over the codes to him so that he comes ready to build with God and you.

Since veil work is the potent space of sacred surrender - when you are in your deepest feminine polarity it becomes the invitation for a worthy man to serve you deeply.

Book Your Divine Feminine Consult

When you are behind the veil, this becomes the space of alchemy - if we do not go into the deepest space of surrender, we cannot initiate our men anyway with the highest point of desire to be in soul satisfying communion with us. Attempting to create with your man outside the beyond means his consciousness will not hear the divine call to serve you deeply.

The invitation for your man to rise is by you going behind the veil - doing the deeper inner throne work of moving into the space of the deep mystery and space of beyond.

This process is also practicing your deepest divine feminine in the face of uncertainty, the unknown, the dark, the distance, space, or separation and release living in the deep feminine pain body.

Additional notes to understand masculine/feminine dynamics

Feminine Polarity Dynamics:

1. Surrender
2. Receiving Channel

Feminine in Uncertainty

One of the challenge for the feminine when there is conflict or uncertainty is disconnection from within and from body/self.

Feminine who lacks connection to self:

1. Disconnects from body - leaves body
2. Stays in the head - goes into masculine part of self
3. Energy is over there with the man

The Feminine must stay grounded and centered in self, heart and body.

Masculine energy will test the capacity of the feminine - can you handle the weight of this without collapsing? Without sending your energy over to him or leaving your life/desires/passions/body or not being present for you?

Masculine energy wants to serve the feminine. It doesn't feel the highest capacity to serve when the feminine is in her unprocessed pain body storm - and deeper unprocessed shadows.

Masculine energy programming to respond in the face of feminine storm - responses in order to not harm the feminine: run, move away, hide, retreat

Masculine responds to feminine vulnerability/surrender in 3 main ways:

1. Run away
2. Meet it
3. Destroy you in it

How to master your Feminine being:

When you want to create dynamically with masculine energy, you will need to understand:

1. Power of surrender - including sacred rites of passage work behind the veil with universal masculine principle
2. Power of vulnerability
3. Power of receiving

If there is no way they can't penetrate, it's translated as:

1. I can't win with her
2. I can't make her happy
3. I'm not enough for her

And translates as I can't win

The Feminine wants to receive and drop in her body.

You need to allow for your inner masculine to be a container/grounder - where you don't project AT the man but it keeps you safe, grounded, and secure. If you haven't had any inner masculine alchemy work, your energy body will always collapse in your storm.

When there is distance/space/masculine resistance/separation:

Your inner movement response to resistance is:

1. Inwards - feminine - self
2. Downwards - into her masculine root

Not be masculine, take charge, or go into the reactive pain body, pick a fight or be the man towards him.

Most often women in their pain body goes - outwards - reactive towards the man.

There are often different shadows that reflects from the pain body:

1. Fixer/savior - wounded masculine
2. Damsel/martyr - wounded feminine
3. Stuck - can't move on, move forward, heart is entangled with him where there is no other places for any other masculine to penetrate or be present for her. A woman in her deep pain body can't invite a man towards serving her.

Trusting The Masculine

Men are often use to women who can be angry and destructive or can feel the energy of her living deep in her pain body - needy, anxious, bitter, obsessive, compulsive - even at a distance.

Trusting the masculine:

- How deep can you trust the masculine in the face of making a decision when it's not choosing you?
- Do you still have unresolved trust issues with men?
- Is it always about what he's TAKING away from you or isn't giving you?

When the feminine is in her healthy inner balance, her energy will reflect in this way: "I trust your decision and what you feel is best" This is the energy space of being in deeper surrender and trusting leadership - I'm going to so trust in that decision and I'm going to go inwards and downwards - that even in that space I'm trusting that you know what's best for both of us. This is a challenge to master when you don't have throne work or live behind the veil.

Embody Your Divine Feminine Power

Book Now

Unsundered women: fight, struggle, tries to convince, pissed, withhold, closed, stuck, longing, fear, lives out her pain and expresses it.

You have a depth of divine feminine power when you can give the masculine that much trust - but only when you can hold your lover/priestess codes deeper because you are now in sacred holy surrender to the divine masculine principle and serving the KING.

Then your man who's making a decision - that right now, the space between you and me is not something I want to serve - this is the point of space where a man can get initiated to rise higher - the masculine energy that meets trust gets initiated to respond in service.

Masculine energy can rise:

1. It can initiate him to rise
2. It becomes the energy response from other masculine energy

Feminine going into superpower - living behind the veil - in the face of uncertainty she can hold rest - she can go into the beyond, she can go into the mystery.

Feminine response: go into the unknown - going into a place beyond the unknown realm, in the dance with the mystery - this is now when you are in your deepest feminine spirituality.

Going into deep realm: I can stand in the mystery, uncertainty, unknown, darkness - now you're going into the universal masculine energy with that much power - the essence of the masculine itself. The universal masculine energy rises and says: I will give you everything - I will meet you there.
